FORM B

Part I

Aim of the event:

The aim was to celebrate the festival with fun, fervor and togetherness. Deepawali or Diwali is a festival of lights symbolizing the victory of righteousness and the lifting of spiritual darkness. The word “Deepawali” refers to rows of diyas, or clay lamps.

Part II

Abstract:

In Indian culture, Diwali, the festival of lights, sees millions attend prayers and celebratory events across the world every autumn. To celebrate, houses are decorated with candles and colorful lights while families’ feast and share gifts. It is a festival of lights symbolizing the victory of righteousness and the lifting of spiritual darkness. The event started with a pledge taken by RDIAS members for celebrating a Green and a Cracker Free Diwali.

There were 4 events organized to mark the celebration of the same.

- 1. Cleaning of Workstations- Cleaner surroundings make it easier to organize the workplace and increase the productivity and remove negativity. As a part of our commitment towards Swacchhta Abhiyaan, employees were encouraged to be responsible for cleaning and maintaining their own workstation. Keeping this in view a half an hour cleanliness drive of cubicles was done. It is rightly said that Cleanliness attracts positive energies and removes negative energies.
- 2. Inter Departmental “Rangoli Making Competition- As Diwali is the festival of light it gets more beautiful with zest of colorful Rangoli. Therefore, a rangoli competition was also organized as it is considered a symbol of good luck and prosperity, wherein all the faculty members of department of MBA, MCA and BBA and Non-Teaching Staff participated in the same and displayed their creativity. Teams were allotted space in Block –B Reception area for MBA & BBA and Non-Teaching Staff and for MCA Departments Ground Floor Block- A was allocated. 90 minutes were given to all the teams and MCA Department stood first followed by BBA, MBA and Non-Teaching Staff. The judges for Rangoli making Competition were Ms. Namita Garg, Dr. Manoj Kumar Gupta, Dr. Anshu Lochab and Ms. Deepika Varshney.

Winners for the Event

First Position - MCA Department

Second Position - BBA Department

Third Position - MBA Department

3. Dumb Charades- A game in which movies names were mentioned in the chits. One person was asked to enact which others had to guess. It was a fun filled event giving way to use imagination in expressing the movie name by actions only. There were 10 movies which were enacted and were guessed by the audience.

4. Antakshari – A game which was played in a team of 4 members where in the aim was to foster team spirit along with fun quotient in it. There were 11 teams participating in the competition. It was an activity comprising of 3 rounds:

- I. Random Word Round- wherein the teams were given different words and they had to sing as many songs using these words in the mukhda in time duration of 1 minute.
- II. Bollywood Jodi Round: In it the teams were given name of Jodi and the team had to sing a song pictured on the Jodi.
- III. English Translation Round: In it English lines of Bollywood Hindi songs was given to the team, the team had to guess the songs based on their English translation within 30 seconds.

The winning team of Antakshari comprised of Dr. Irameet Kaur, Ms. Tanuja Saroha, Ms Tripti and Ms. Meena.

The events were followed by a high tea arranged for the members of RDIAS family. The entire family of RDIAS enjoyed the same and was of the view that such events leads to bringing togetherness and bonding both on professional and personal front.
