Conclusion

Involving the class at all stages of the industry visit motivates the students and helps them take full advantage of all learning opportunities presented. It also brings a dimension to students' education, which they cannot gain in the classroom as well as helping to make connections between the different aspects of their educational experience. Industry visit provides the students with “dynamic” real time feedback that is useful in the learning process.

Students accumulated hands on experience about entire process of developing a software and students asked various questions like what kind of project can be undertaken , policy towards enrolling , scope of jobs for MCA's in their organization, minimum eligibility to get hired there etc. All the queries were handled in a most satisfactory manner by the IT faculty.
