Part I

Aim of the event:

8th March is internationally celebrated as the “International Women’s Day”. It is an important occasion for all of us to pause for a moment to reflect on ourselves, to appreciate how much has been done and what more needs to be done in the field of gender parity. Moreover, it is the day to acknowledge all the men and women in the world for making this world a better place for everyone to live in. RDIAS has also celebrated the day with all its staff members. The purpose of organizing the day on such occasion is not just to observe the day but also to create awareness with the target of reaching each individual, community and hence thereby the nation.

Part II

Abstract:

Today's women have excelled in all fields ranging from household to politics and management. They are setting new benchmarks in all walks of life. They have conquered new horizons. If they can manage the household with ease, so can they scale the highest summit or even travel to space. Thus, to honor the achievements of women all across the globe, the International Women's Day is celebrated every year on March 8. It is a day when women are recognized for their achievements without regard to divisions, whether national, ethnic, linguistic, cultural, economic or political. It is an occasion for looking back on past struggles and accomplishments, and more importantly, for looking ahead to the untapped potential and opportunities that await future generations of women. RDIAS is a place that recognizes the importance of all important days and festivals. This international day was also celebrated with full enthusiasm and zeal. The program was started by congratulating and delivering pleasant words by Ms. Namita Garg – Dean Placements. The program was extended with a small pledge, taken by each individual present over there. A small group photograph was clicked at the end. Arrangements of refreshments were enjoyed by everyone.

Part III

Conclusion:

It was solemn yet wonderful celebration for all staff members of RDIAS. Everyone optimistically participated in this program with a thought of making a great impact on the community. The motive was mainly to remind ourselves of the fact that women and men are equal beings, deserve the same respect, opportunities and are also equally responsible for building a better future.
