Part 3

Conclusion

Women empowerment is currently a burning issue on the minds of nation's policymakers as it commands a lot of media attention and international focus lately. It is a fact that women are built different than men by nature yet this difference cannot be translated to mean inferiority. In the few last decades, India has witnessed some changes in the status and role of women in our society but still the unequal status prevails. Students of RDIAS presented different real situations showing women facing atrocities and the ways they are coming forward in large numbers to manage them.
