

Web Report On “ Pic ‘n’ Play Contest by Literary Club ”

Title	Pic ‘n’ Play Contest
Date	October 17, 2017
Summary	Exploring narrative through a range of picture and play-based experiences make students step into the world of the creativity and power of imagination to explore it more completely. The club came up with a similar contest this time with the theme of picture based role play. The motive of the activity was to expand the horizon of creativity beneath the mind of students. Contestants needed to understand the message portrayed by the picture and enact it through a role play. Students tried to decode pictures through their imagination and perception towards the image. There were quick brainstorming sessions between contestants and each group came up with a unique act. 24 students participated in the activity. All of them were divided into six groups consisting of four students. The theme of pictures varied from different festivals to cultural differences in our Indian society. Each group came up with their unique idea. Students portrayed strong moral ethics, joys, and colors of festivals. Many groups portrayed the problems in our society and gave beautiful solutions through different approaches. At the end of the event, judges chose three groups out of six as best performers. The spectacular event ended with prize distribution among the winners with much applauds from the crowd. The winners were as follows: First Position: Shabeena, Vaibhav, Shashank and Swapna, MBA I Second Position: Sumit & Megha, MBA I, Yash, BBA I and Dhruv, BBA V Third Position: Yashika Chhabtra, Harshpreet Kaur, Jannief Simar and Sahil Tanwar, MBA I. The contest ended with every participant and coordinator posing for the group photo along with faculty members and the judges.
