

Title	Guest Lecture on “Maximum Governance with Minimum Government” for the students of MBA & BBA (II Shift)
Resource Person	Prof. R. K. Mittal, Professor, Guru Gobind Singh Indraprastha University, New Delhi.
Date	October 9, 2014
Summary	The aim of the session was to create awareness among the students regarding maximum governance with minimum government and how country needs to understand this aim. This session was organized for increasing the knowledge about how this technique brings revolution in the country. The resource person started the session with the improving market condition of our country as he said India is becoming a hub for retail market and other countries are keen to invest their money in Indian market which will definitely improve rating as well as help in upgrading the standard. He briefed that how better market can develop job opportunities and can enhance vibrant economy condition. Sir also mentioned about India’s current position in the world with respect to Global Competitiveness Index. He further enlightened the students with India’s contribution in the World’s manufacturing sector and how it contributes to economy. He also explained how 12 pillars acting important role in an economy like Higher education, Financial market, Labor market, Macro economic power, Institution, Road power market size etc. He was very much specific about meaning of Governance and very clearly explain it to the students like governance doesn’t mean large staffing where as it means how Government facilitate, promote and protect market with economic stability so that vibrant condition should be emergence. He share very important things that student of our country learn in India and give benefit to the foreign countries hence government try to develop market in such a way that they can absorb them in home market rather going out from the country. He also elaborated upon importance of GDP in the development of an economy and India's share in Total World's GDP.

Students participated very enthusiastically in the lecture and were asking questions with full interest. As they were interested to know how new government will bring the strategy of maximum governance with minimum government.

In all it was a very interactive and open session, students learned a lot and they were really benefited from the lecture.