

Guest Lecture on “Foreign Policies and International Politics”

Topic :	Guest Lecture on “Foreign Policies and International Politics” by Mr. Rajeev Sharma ,Journalist, for the students of MBA II Semester and BBA II Semester
Date of event :	Mar 20, 2012
Aim of the Event	The aim of this session was to give knowledge to students about foreign international politics. Foreign Affairs are the best guide to understanding global affairs and the world around us. A country's foreign policy consists of self-interest strategies chosen by the state to safeguard its national interests. Well informed and groomed students are the need of the hour and this session aimed at providing students with the latest information about India and its relations with other countries.
Description of the event	The speaker started his session by interacting with students and asking them to put forward questions to him. He proceeded with the session by putting his first question forward: what is the hall mark of good person? Many answers came from students like: confidence, positive attitude, good communication skills, determination etc. Sir then started to speak about the Indian economy stating that India started its economic reforms in 1991 and right now Indian economy is worth 1.2 trillion US dollars. He then went on to compare Indian economy with other countries like China and UK. on how to get a good job overseas and what are the necessary requirements for the same. He stated that United Nations is the best option for MBA students, because salary in UN is tax free and in six figures. He also suggest students to learn any foreign language like Chinese (Mandarin), Spanish, French etc.

Lastly, he said that the world is a small village and we should be aware about the happenings in our home country and also the world. He advised students to read the newspaper daily and keep themselves updated and gave his best wishes to the students for their bright future.