The aim of celebrating the festival of Diwali is fostering team building spirits. It goes without saying that festivals are a magnificent time to build bonhomie and encourage healthy bonding among employees , in particular between various teams and departments.

Part 2

Abstract :

The celebration of Diwali , 'The festival of lights' came alive at RDIAS on November 06, 2018. The rangoli done by students the previous day added the perfect setting to the festivity. To mark the celebrations a week long anti cracker campaign was organised in association with Media Management Committee of RDIAS. On the day of celebration the Institute wore a festive look with bright and sparkling rangoli everywhere in campus. RDIAS Family members talked about the significance of the festival and their memories associated with this celebration when they were in school. Besides sharing their memories few faculty members talked on the sensitive issue of the ill-effects of crackers. The celebrations started with :

(a) Treasure Hunt competition where in 7 teams comprising of 5 members each participated whole heartedly and left no stone unturned to search the entire campus for cues hidden in different places like under the door mat, trees, water coolers etc. Team comprising of Ms. Tanuja Saroha, Mr. Anurag Tiruwa, Ms Sakshi Gupta , Ms Khushboo Bhadoria and Mr. Ravi Prakash Jeewal won the treasure hunt.

(b) The Second game played was Dumb charades - A game in which movies names were mentioned in the chits. One person was asked to enact which others had to guess. It was a fun filled event giving way to use imagination in expressing the movie name by actions only.

(c) The Third activity was Just a Minute Activities where different questions and activities were mentioned in power point presentation and participants had to attempt those questions or activities like most matching person, words starting with F, Name of states from hindi synonyms etc. were a few questions asked. The activities were followed by lunch we believe that a family that eats together stays together.

Part 3
