- Date : October 12 , 2018
- Time :
- Venue : Received entries through Email
- Organized By: HOBBY CLUB
- Motivation for the activity : The motivation of organizing this activity was to give a chance for all the talented and creative photographers to participate and show up their photography skills because:
"What a photographer's eye can see, a normal person cannot."

Form B

Part 1

Aim of the event :

The event was organized to find out the creative students of RDIAS who see things from a different angle. The competition helped the students to explore their surroundings and capture the best moments around them. Also, this activity aims at expanding the horizons of students and gives a chance to them to show up their talent. The event also took out hidden skills of various students. Participants interpreted the theme from their respective dimensions and added their own creativity to come up with different photographs.

Part 2

Abstract :

It was a chance for all the talented and creative students to participate and show up their photography skills. Students needed to submit 2 best pictures from their collection. The simple rules of activity were:

1. This activity will be conducted for the students of BBA & MBA.
2. The selection will be done from 2 pictures per student where one picture will be on the theme “Life is Still” and other will be of the student’s choice.
3. The entries will be called till October 12, 2018
4. Students will mail their entries on Hobby club mail id i.e., hobbyclub@rdias.ac.in along with other details like Name, Course and Contact No.

There were a large number of Students who participated from different courses. The students whose pictures will be selected will be chosen as members of the Photography Club, Nazariya.

Part 3

Conclusion

The event focused on bringing out the creativity within the students and also, awakening their minds to view things around themselves from a different angle as compared to the angle, the world sees from. It was a chance for all the talented and creative photographers to participate and show up their photography skills.

Around 34 entries were received out of which 24 have been selected. The selected entries will be called out for the second round for selecting the deserving member for the club.
